The following papers numbered 1 to 3 read on this motion for stay of transfer of deed of sale – referred to Part 8 because of recusal by Justice Alan Saks, Part 10 No.2 on the Calendar of 10-27-03

PAPERS NUMBERED

Order to Show Cause – Exhibits and Affidavits Annexed.....	1
Answering Affidavit and Exhibits.....	2
Replying Affidavit and Exhibits.....	3

Upon the foregoing papers this application by defendant Deborah Keys for an order staying transfer of the deed to the subject real property in this foreclosure action is denied. Ms. Keys argues that the sale was not properly noticed according to statute, namely "RPL § 1402". Plaintiff, however, provided proof that the notice conformed to the requirements of Real Property Actions and Proceedings Law § 231, the applicable provision. In addition, Ms. Keys argues that she was "never served" with the Summons and Complaint in this action. In her reply (denominated "Responsive Affirmation to Plaintiff's Affirmation in Opposition to Order to Show Cause and Request to Produce Records"), Ms. Keys also argues that she believes her mother, an owner of record of the subject property, responded to a solicitation to purchase a mortgage life insurance policy from New York Guardian and mortgage payment records, if produced by plaintiff, might show an amount paid over and above the amount due, indicating possible premium payments. Neither of these last two arguments may be heard by this court as they were previously considered and rejected by Supreme Court Justice Alan Saks in his Order dated June 6, 2002. In that Order, Justice Saks denied Ms. Keys' motion to vacate a default judgment of foreclosure against her, finding that she had demonstrated neither an excusable default nor a meritorious defense. Ms. Keys' demand for production of records at this point is untimely and unjustified. Moreover, despite including a copy of the purported solicitation for insurance in her reply, Ms. Keys has offered nothing to show that she made any previous attempt on her own to discover the information she now seeks or that previous attempts to do so were unsuccessful.

In essence, petitioner's application is tantamount to a motion to reargue the decision of Justice Saks, dated June 6, 2002. Her application is untimely and, even if it were not, does not convince this court that Justice Saks misapprehended or misunderstood the applicable law or relevant facts.

This constitutes the decision and order of the court.
